The Arts Commission Announces Next Round of American Rescue Plan Act Grants for Local Arts and Culture Organizations and Artists

TOLEDO, OH – The Arts Commission of Greater Toledo, in partnership with the Lucas County Commissioners and the City of Toledo, is pleased to announce the second round of organizational and artist grants from the Toledo-Lucas County Rescue Plan Grant program.

“We continue to express our gratitude to our elected officials for including the arts and culture ecosystem in their recovery efforts.” said Marc Folk, President and CEO of The Arts Commission. “This funding has assisted nearly every nonprofit arts and culture organization move toward recovery in Toledo and Lucas County and over 100 local artists. The arts in our region are an economic driver and a keystone of the quality of life here. This investment has helped the sector rebound faster and reinforced our community's identity as an arts and culture destination and a great place to live.”

Nonprofit arts organizations and individual artists were eligible to apply to a competitive process based on their demonstrated practice, need and location within Toledo and/or Lucas County. Thirty-seven organizations and 101 artists were approved earlier in the year during the first round of funding for a total of $1,699,000. Seven new small organizations were funded in this second cycle for a total of $112,500.

Since 1959, The Arts Commission has played a vital role in providing resources for artists and cultural organizations in the Greater Toledo area. Throughout this time, the City of Toledo and the Lucas County Board of Commissioners have been critical partners and have stepped up to provide funding and other resources that have ensured the ongoing success of arts and culture initiatives in our region.

About the American Rescue Plan Act Grants for Local Arts and Culture Organizations and Artists

As the disproportionately negative economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the arts ecosystem deepened, The Arts Commission worked with the Toledo Area Cultural Leaders to advocate for American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funding toward the rescue and recovery of the sector.

In response to this crisis, The Lucas County Board of Commissioners, Mayor Wade Kapszukiewicz and Toledo City Council joined together in partnership to approve $6 million in ARPA funds to support a multi-year grant program for the recovery of nonprofit arts and cultural organizations and artists in Toledo and Lucas County.
